FEATURES & BENEFITS

- ▶ Forms a durable protective film on copper and certain other metals
- ▶ Eliminates galvanic corrosion
- ▶ Oxidant-resistant azoles
- ▶ Reduced consumption
- ▶ Enhanced program reliability

Anticorrosion for copper-based metals

NET AZOLE is designed to protect copper-based metals and certain other metals, and to eliminate galvanic corrosion when steel is present. Unlike other azoles available on the market, NET AZOLE remains stable when oxidizing biocides (HRA*) such as chlorine are present. This ensures enhanced protection and reduced consumption.

Directions for use:

Dilute NET AZOLE in water or inject it directly into the circuit, then allow it to circulate through the system.

*HRA: Halogen Resistant Azole
